

EDUCATION AND LOCATION, in perfect harmony.

New city.

New convention center.

New hotel.

The same AAHA conference you've relied on for quality, innovative CE, with some new, melodious twists.

THE CITY MUSIC CALLS HOME

Fifty percent of the U.S. population lives within 600 miles of Nashville—a great thing for the many tourists who long for the sweet sounds, comfort foods, and vibrant culture and scenery Music City provides. Whether your conference playlist will include checking out the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum, noshing on some good ol'southern fare, listening to your share of the live music playing 24 hours per day, or exploring the ever-growing art scene, Nashville truly has something for everyone.

MUSIC CITY CENTER

Located in the heart of the city, all 1.2 million square feet of Nashville's brand new, state-of-the-art convention center, Music City Center, is reserved for the AAHA yearly conference, March 20 – 23, 2014.

OMNI NASHVILLE HOTEL

It's beautiful. It's luxurious. It's brand new. It has a rooftop pool, spa, fitness center, and its own live music venues. And it's our conference headquarters hotel.

A VETERINARY CONFERENCE TO SING ABOUT

We're taking our greatest hits from the AAHA conferences of years past, and adding new, unique tracks you'll be sure to want to sing along to (or at least come, listen, learn, and take a few notes). And, the AAHA staff will be there, as always, to make your conference experience as smooth as Patsy Cline's voice.

Can you hear that? IT'S THE NEW SOUND OF VETERINARY CE.

Watch your mail for more information and visit us online as AAHA Nashville 2014 unfolds aahanet.org/AAHANashville2014 ★ March 20 – 23

